Volunteerism: The leaders of the SIG Advisory Board and work group members are volunteers with expressed interest in working with others to promote the purpose, vision and goals of the AAACN Leadership SIG.

Evaluation:
Success of the SIG will be determined by:
- Maintenance of a core group of members to conduct the work of the Leadership SIG
- Evidence of regular communication with SIG members
- Representation of the SIG through Viewpoint, annual conference activities, Community Discussion List, communication and other venues.

Structure:
The Leadership SIG maintains an Advisory Board with a Chair and Chair-elect, Vice Chair(s) and additional appointed members. The AAACN Board of Directors appoints one of the Board members as a SIG liaison to represent SIG interests and needs to the Board.

To maintain consistency and momentum within the leadership structure of the SIG, members who express an interest in becoming Chair will first serve on the Advisory Board for at least one year. After the completion of a one year term, the delegate may advance to Chair-elect. The Chair-elect will apprentice with the Chair to understand the activities, projects and responsibilities of the Chair. The following year the Chair-elect becomes Chair. The current Chair stays on for an additional year as the Vice-Chair; continuing any in-progress projects and providing support to the new leadership. The Vice-Chair may then return to the Advisory Board per their desire. The Leadership SIG Advisory Board seeks to maintain 12 active members.
